Keep Your Cool at Christmas

Giving Retail Workers Better Protection from Violence and Abuse

Retail workers suffer shocking violence and abuse every day at work.

We know levels of abuse often increase during the busy Christmas period.

Thanks to Usdaw's campaign, retail workers in England, Scotland and Wales are now protected by specific legislation, but we need to make sure incidents are reported.

Unreported retail crime deprives the victims of justice and can skew crime figures to mask the true scale of the problem. Make sure you report any incidents of violence or abuse that happen to you or a colleague to your employer, the police and your Usdaw rep.
